COUNCIL INFORMATION

PUBLIC LIBRARIES

Librarian and Curator: Mr. Horace Goulden, F.L.A.

Deputy Librarian: Mr. Stanley T. Dibnah, F.L.A.

The central building comprises an adult lending library (101,467 volumes) with a music department (8,338 titles) a reference library (16,882 volumes) with a collection of patents (full specifications for the last twenty years, abridgements since 1855) and a local history department (3,857 items) and a children's combined lending and reference library (16,927 volumes). The Newspaper room contains a good selection of the leading daily newspapers and popular weekly periodicals, while the magazine room has a further eighty weekly, monthly, and quarterly periodicals including trade and technical publications. Bound copies of local newspapers from 1850, national newspapers from 1898 and files of technical periodicals are available for consultation.

Huddersfield residents and persons employed or attending a full-time educational establishment in Huddersfield are enrolled without charge and others may enroll on payment of a subscription.

The Art Gallery contains six rooms of varying sizes, each decorated in a different colour. The walls are covered with a finishing fabric of cotton and jute, and have recessed metal picture rails to obviate the necessity for unsightly nails or suspension chains.
