Provided always and be it enacted, That unless and until the said Railway, where it crosses the said canal, shall at any time be abandoned by the said Company, the said Company shall and they are hereby required at their own expense to maintain the said bridge and arch in perfect repair, and if that part of the said Railway shall at any time be abandoned by the said Company, the said Company shall at their own expense remove the said bridge if they shall be required so to do by the Company of Proprietors of the Canal Navigation from Leeds to Liverpool.

And

And be it enacted, That nothing in this Act contained shall take away, diminish, alter, lessen, prejudice, or affect any of the rights, privileges, powers or authorities of the Company of Proprietors of the Calder and Hebble Navigation in the West Riding of the County of York, or authorize or empower the said Railway Company to alter the line or level of the said Navigation, or the towing paths thereof, or to divert any of the waters therein, or any other waters which now supply or may be taken for the use of the said Navigation, unless the same last-mentioned waters be taken in such a course as not to injure or prejudice the said Navigation, or to injure or interfere with the wharfs or any of the works of the said Navigation Company, otherwise than is hereinafter specifically provided for.

Not to interfere with Calder and Hebble Navigation, nor any Locks, Banks, Wharfs, &c. of the Company of Proprietors of such Navigation, to be taken without their consent.

And be it enacted, That in carrying the said Railway over the canal, banks and towing path of the said Company of Proprietors of the Calder and Hebble Navigation, in the township of Mirfield, in the said West Riding, the said Railway Company shall, and they are hereby required, at their own costs and expenses, to make, and at all times for ever thereafter maintain and keep in perfect repair, a good and substantial bridge over the said Navigation, and the towing path thereof; and the soffit of the arch of such bridge shall be constructed at the greatest height, and the arch of the greatest span not being less than fifty feet, measured at right angles with the canal, which the level of the said Railway will admit of; and the said bridge shall be constructed in such manner as shall be agreed by the engineer of the said Railway Company, and the engineer of the said Calder and Hebble Navigation Company, and in case they should differ respecting the same, in such manner as an umpire (being a civil engineer) to be appointed by them shall appoint and direct: Provided always, that the soffit of the arch of such bridge over the said canal in the township of Mirfield aforesaid shall not be less than fourteen feet above the ordinary top water level of such canal.

thereafter maintain and keep in perfect repair a good and substantial bridge over the said Navigation, and the towing path thereof; and such bridge shall be constructed in such manner as shall be agreed by the engineer of the said Railway Company, and the engineer of the said Calder and Hebble Navigation; and in case they should differ respecting the same, in such manner as an umpire (being a civil engineer) to be appointed by them shall order and direct: Provided always, that in no case shall the soffit of the arch of such bridge be less than eighteen feet above the water level of the crown of the first dam immediately below the said bridge, nor the arch of such bridge over the said Navigation be of less span than will be sufficient to leave under it a navigable waterway in the most navigable part of the said river, and a continuous and uninterrupted towing path adjoining thereto, and unseparated therefrom, of fifty feet together, measured at right angles with the said river; and if by the construction of such bridge the present towing path shall be separated by any pier or otherwise from the most navigable part of such river, then and in such case the said Railway Company shall, and they are hereby required, at their own costs and expenses, to provide and make a good and sufficient towing path under the direction of such engineers or umpire as aforesaid, and fence in the same and make the necessary communication and approaches thereto, so as to secure along the said Navigation an uninterrupted and continuous towing path adjoining to the most navigable part of the said river in the place of the one so separated as aforesaid.

No obstruction to be made to the Calder and Hebble Navigation, &c.

And be it enacted, That, during the erection of the said several bridges, or during the execution of any work authorized or required to be made by the said Railway Company for the said Calder and Hebble Navigation Company, or which may interfere with the said Navigation, and at all future times during any repairs thereof, no obstruction shall be occasioned to the said Navigation, or to the boats or barges passing along the same, or to the towing horses drawing such boats or barges; but that at all times during such erection or repairs a navigable waterway of not less than thirty feet, a towing path adjoining to and unseparated therefrom of not less than six feet, and a clear height sufficient for boats to pass along, shall be left in the main line of the said Navigation and towing path, and that the said bridges and other works and repairs shall be constructed and made to the satisfaction of such engineers or umpire as aforesaid.

And be it enacted, That if by reason and in execution of any of the works by this Act authorized or required to be made, or by reason of the bad state of repair of any such works or of any of the said bridges, or if by any act or omission of the said Railway Company, or any of their agents, servants or workmen, the said Calder and Hebble Navigation, or the towing paths thereof, shall be so obstructed as that boats, barges, or other vessels navigating or using the same cannot pass, or shall be impeded in the passage along the same, or in case the space under the said bridges shall be at any time contracted, so as to be less in width or height than is hereinbefore prescribed, then and in any of the said cases the said Railway Company shall pay to the said Company of Proprietors of the Calder and Hebble Navigation, as or by way of ascertained damages, the sum of fifty pounds for every day not exceeding fourteen days, and so in proportion for any less time than one day during which the said obstruction shall continue on the said navigation; and in default of payment of such respective sum, or such proportion thereof as shall become due, on demand made of the treasurer of the said Railway Company, the said Company of Proprietors of the Calder and Hebble Navigation may sue for and recover the same, together with full costs of suit, against the said Railway Company, by action of debt or on the case, in any of her Majesty's courts of record at Westminster; and in case the said bridges over the said Calder and Hebble Navigation, or any part thereof, or over the said canal, or the approaches, slides, slopes, or banks of the said Railway next to the said canal or river navigation, or any such bridges; approaches, slides, slopes or banks, or any part thereof respectively, shall not be kept in good and substantial repair, and if the said Railway Company shall not, within three days after notice in writing of such want of repairs given to their clerk by the clerk or principal engineer of the said Company of Proprietors of the Calder and Hebble Navigation, proceed to make and complete with all reasonable despatch the repairs so required, or in case of any pressing emergency, then it shall be lawful for the said Company of Proprietors of the said Calder and Hebble Navigation to do the needful repairs, and to recover the amount of the expenses from the said Railway Company, by action of debt or on the case, with full
